Don Moore

Don Moore is a member of the Leadership San Marcos Class of 2015. He is a partner and works as Publisher of the San Marcos Daily Record, which publishes the Wimberley View and the Dripping Springs Century News. His companies also includes Tejas Digital Services which is a leading provider of digital services for the Hays County business community

Moore says, "Leadership proved to be a valuable experience for me as I was quickly introduced to business, political, educational and community service leaders in San Marcos and Hays County. Coming to a town as publisher it is critical to reach the point where community leaders can be called on and in turn those same leaders can call on the newspaper when needed and Leadership did this for me and my newspaper."

"San Marcos is a great place to live and work and I got really lucky when the opportunity to buy the newspaper became available", Moore went on to say.

Moore grew up in the newspaper business as his father Fowler Moore was also a newspaper publisher for the last 30 years of his life in Bryan, TX where Moore was raised. The proximity to Texas A&M lead Moore to become an Aggie and he graduated from A&M in 1974 with a BBA, in Accounting. Moore's first assignment as Publisher came in 1978 when his father turned over the reins at the Bryan College Station Press.

Moore's journalism skills have been honed on the job while he used his accounting skills to make sure his newspapers were solvent. Over the years, all his experience has been in community journalism and you will many times hear Moore say if it doesn't happen in San Marcos, we really don't have the time or inclination to cover the story.

Moore is also a Rotarian, a member of St. Mark's Episcopal Church and the proud father of Barry and Eva Moore and grand-parent of Maggie and James Moore. Barry is a College Station City Councilman and Eva is in Pharmaceutical School at the University of Texas in Austin. Moore also has a significant other, Marilyn Redding who works as the Business Manager at the San Marcos Daily Record.
